Connect Care: A Primary Care Primer

Choose from two sessions on Wednesday, March 15:

8:00–9:00 a.m. MT or...

4:00–5:00 p.m. MT

You've no doubt heard about Connect Care—AHS's new clinical information system and provincial record of care, being launched in hospitals and acute care sites across Alberta. You may have also heard it will have an impact on primary care workflow processes.

Are you wondering how Connect Care might change the way you work? Are you wanting to be prepared with some tips and tricks that can help you be ready for the changes? Are you curious about how Connect Care will improve care transitions for primary care providers particularly if they don't work in an AHS facility?

We'll address these questions and more at our March 15 webinar, Connect Care: A Primary Care Primer.

Who should attend: It's open to anyone in primary healthcare, but it's a great chance for those affected by the Connect Care launch on May 6 to get practical tips, troubleshooting advice and more. See the Connect Care launch timeline for zones and sites affected on May 6.

Register for 8:00 a.m. session

Register for 4:00 p.m. session

Presenters include:

- Dr. Steve Turner, Associate Zone Medical Director and Chief Medical Information Officer, Central Zone, AHS
- Members of the AHS Primary Health Care team

At the Connect Care: A Primary Care Primer webinar, you'll find out more about the following:

- How to set up identification codes to ensure patient results are delivered directly into your EMR
- How to get AHS support on Connect Care
- How Connect Care keeps you informed on patient discharge information and readmission risks
- How the primary care community helped design Connect Care processes

We're hoping to get lots of questions, so come prepared to put your hand up!

This webinar is presented by the Home to Hospital to Home Transitions Guideline team, who are part of the Primary Health Care Integration Network at Alberta Health Services, in collaboration with the Alberta Medical Association's Accelerating Change Transformation Team.
