

Physician Practice Improvement Program (PPIP)

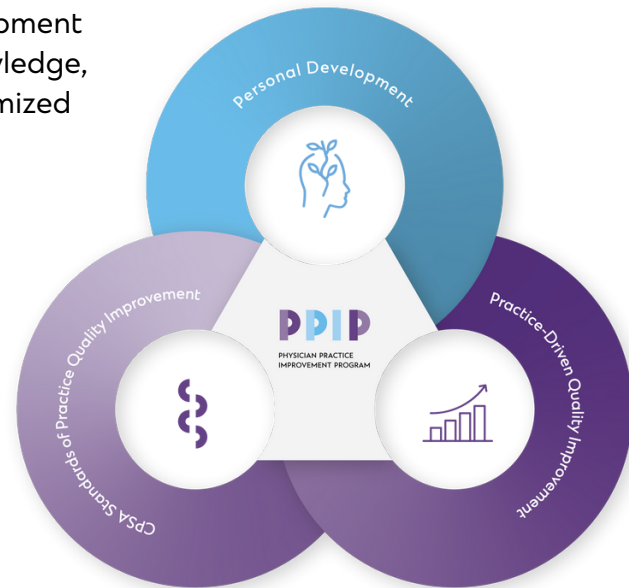

About our program:

PPIP is a quality improvement and personal development program. By providing support, resources and knowledge, CPSA fosters a culture of lifelong learning and optimized patient care amongst Alberta's physicians.

PPIP is designed to:

- ✓ Encourage physicians to continually strive for improvements in their practice.
- ✓ Make quality improvement and personal development an everyday part of medical practice.
- ✓ Empower physicians to use objective data, peer and patient feedback, and self-reflection to identify areas for improvement.

What to expect:

To meet PPIP's requirements, physicians must complete the following three activities at least once over a five-year cycle:

Quality Improvement: Practice-Driven

- Use objective practice data to identify opportunities for improvement.
- The Primary Healthcare Panel Report from the Health Quality Council of Alberta, or Alberta Health Services' dashboard metrics are among sources of available data.

Quality Improvement: Standards of Practice

- Use CPSA's Standards of Practice as a benchmark to reflect on your practice and assess whether any gaps exist.
- For example, review the content of your patient records to ensure they're compliant with our standards.

Personal Development

- Gather feedback from peers, learners and patients, e.g. through a formal MCC 360 review. Reflect on it with a leader, facilitator or trained coach.
- Use what you learn to incorporate personal improvements into your practice.
